RUDYARD KIPLING.

A number of poems and stories may be expected from the matchless pen of Rudyard Kipling.

THE greatly increased demand for McClure's Magazine during the Autumn months has made it necessary to print a First Edition of 400,000 Copies for January. This shows the high expectation the public has of the Magazine during the coming year; and we can confidently promise that it will not suffer disappointment. Without undertaking anything like a complete specific announcement, we invite attention to the following features:

MARK TWAIN.

See Mark Twain's Poem, with its humorous introductory sketch, in the January number.

IAN MACLAREN'S

THE LIFE OF THE MASTER.

An Extraordinary Serial by the Rev. John Watson, D.D., author of "The Mind of the Master," "The Cure of Souls," "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," etc.

IAN MACLAREN.

Dr. Watson combines more than any other living writer the necessary qualifications for writing a LIFE OF CHRIST FOR THE PEOPLE—human sympathy, spiritual insight, deep reverence and scholarship. The ardour and devotion, the sympathetic understanding of human needs and aspirations with which he has written this life, will be found manifest in the vivid, persuasive narrative of the Divine Story as unfolded month by month in the pages of the Magazine.

CORWIN KNAPP LINSON.

A Great Gallery of Sacred Paintings.

A unique and valuable pictorial feature of Dr. Watson's "Life of the Master" will be the numerous illustrations from paintings in color and drawings in black and white. This is the most stupendous artistic effort that has ever been made to illustrate the life of the New Testament. Mr. Linson, an artist of power and sincerity, was sent to Palestine three years ago to prepare these illustrations. Besides the numerous black and white illustrations, these are some of the subjects of his paintings which will be printed in color from plates especially prepared in Vienna:

The Annunciation
The Visit of Mary to Elizabeth
The Vision of the Shepherds
The Flight into Egypt
A Voice Crying in the Wilderness
The Temptation

Jesus and Nicodemus
Jesus and the Samaritan Woman
The Sermon on the Mount
In the Nazareth Synagogue
Stilling the Tempest
Jesus Walking on the Water

Teaching by the Seashore
The Transfiguration
The Return of the Prodigal Son
Meeting of Jesus and Martha
The Anointing in Bethany
The Blessing of the Children

The Triumphal Entry
The Last Supper
Gethsemane
Jesus Before Pilate
The Crucifixion
The Ascension

The Prologue, with two colored pictures and a number of black and white illustrations, appears in the December number.

TRAVEL AND EXPLORATION.

In this department alone we have in preparation a series of articles that will make the magazine invaluable to all who would keep thoroughly abreast of the times, as well as to those who relish the delight of following strong, adventurous men through bold and world-changing exploits.

Lieutenant Peary will be the subject of an interesting article in the January number, giving an account of his work during the past year; and the official record of his present campaign toward the North Pole will appear in this Magazine. Walter Wellman will contribute a number of absorbing chapters from his recent experiences in one of the most adventurous of modern Polar expeditions. Cy Warman will relate one of the greatest stories in the history of railroad construction—the building of the only railroad into the Klondike; and there will be other articles on travel and exploration equally interesting.

A GREAT NOVEL by ANTHONY HOPE.

ANTHONY HOPE.

Magazine will contain stories by Bret Harte, Booth Tarkington, Robert Barr, Rudyard Kipling, and others. FULLY ILLUSTRATED.

Mr. Hope's new novel has the same qualities of charm and suspense, loveliness of heroine and intense human interest that distinguish his best work.

"Tristram of Blent" is a story of modern England, and will add greatly to the admiration which the readers of "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "Phroso" have for Mr. Hope.

SHORT STORIES.

The best known writers of America and England will contribute to the fiction of the Magazine during the year, and as heretofore there will be much striking work presented by new writers. Early numbers of the

SCIENCE AND INVENTION.

A series of thoroughly interesting and practical papers are in preparation treating of the newest knowledge and latest results of scientific study and research by the most authoritative writers. Among these we may mention:

The Latest Developments in Wireless Telegraphy

Purifying the Public Water Supplies

The Biggest Steamship Afloat

A Ship that Sails Through Arctic Ice

Unsolved Problems of Invention

The Centre of the Earth

The Hottest Heat, Etc., Etc.
